Director Message

By “Planting a Seed” we can feed the state.

Several years ago, the Greenville First Steps board of directors re-examined our investments, and decided to get out of the Direct Service role. The 2008 budget crisis hit, and at the time, we had nearly 30 fulltime employees on our roster, and were providing a host of direct services (either as a sole provider, or cofounded through a partnership with the Greenville School District).

“The board had to take a step back, and say, are we a direct service provider, or do we exist to strengthen the work already being done in our community,” recalls Grady Patterson, Greenville First Steps board chair.

As a result, we began exploring ways to increase the capacity of our partners. We wanted to plant a seed that would grow within successful existing community partnerships

In 2009, we have helped bring Nurse Family Partnership to Greenville. Through a partnership with the Duke Endowment, we helped recruit investors in the nation’s first pay for success funding program (where private investors are reimbursed as government entities see cost savings from effective intervention programs). To date, Nurse Family Partnership has grown from a regional project offered by GHS to serving thousands of families across South Carolina.

In 2015, we worked to build and launch the Palmetto Shared Services Alliance, a statewide non-profit aimed at helping provide much needed back office supports and cost savings to childcare providers. Through a grant from Greenville First Steps, this initiative was taken statewide, and is now serving childcare provider across the state, helping them save money through shared buying power, and through free access to nationally recognized subject matter experts on HR/Legal/Personnel matters.

In 2017 we partnered with Pickens First Steps to launch the Palmetto Basics, a community awareness campaign, that fosters community involvement in understanding the importance of early interventions with our youngest learners, and celebrates the work being done in our community. This project, recently featured on NPR, is available for statewide partners at no cost.

As Greenville First Steps looks towards its 20th anniversary, we hope to celebrate the efforts taken in the past 2 decades to improve education outcomes for generations of young children, and are proud that our work is replicable throughout South Carolina.

OUR MISSION:

We will serve as a convener of early childhood champions to coordinate services to measurably improve the early childhood development of all children in Greenville County.

 Executive Director

4. Improve literacy outcomes for children 0-5
5. Integrate school readiness messaging within Greenville County Community partners
6. Diversify revenue to ensure organizational sustainability.

School Readiness Outcomes

What is the KRA?

In 2017-18, kindergartners across the state were given for the first time South Carolina’s newest assessment of school readiness: the Kindergarten Readiness Assessment, or KRA. The KRA provides a snapshot of students’ abilities at the beginning of the school year, in four domains: Social Foundations, Language and Literacy, Mathematics, and Physical Development and Well-Being. Here are the results locally and for the state:

Greenville County Schools (5,597 children)

Nurse-Family Partnership

Helping vulnerable first-time mothers empowers them to achieve a better life for themselves and their children.

Program Description

Nurse-Family Partnership (NFP) helps transform the lives of vulnerable first-time mothers and their babies. Through ongoing home visits from registered nurses, low-income, first-time moms receive the care and support they need to have a healthy pregnancy, provide responsible and competent care for their children, and become more economically self-sufficient. From pregnancy until the child turns two years old, Nurse-Family Partnership Nurse Home Visitors form a much-needed, trusting relationship with the first-time moms, instilling confidence and empowering them to achieve a better life for their children – and themselves.

In Greenville County, Nurse-Family Partnership is implemented through Greenville Health System.

Greenville First Steps serves families in greatest need. Among our NFP families:

- 100% ... live in poverty
- 54% ... use WIC

In August 2017, NPR.org published an article about South Carolina’s Nurse-Family Partnership Pay-for-Success funding. Greenville First Steps is one of 5 major funders of this statewide initiative.

This year, our NFP program:

- ✓ At 18 months postpartum, 65% of participants have either completed or are in process to gain a high school diploma
- ✓ 98% of mothers reported not using alcohol at 36 weeks pregnancy
- ✓ 91% of mothers reported not smoking at 36 weeks pregnancy

Community Education

In order to thrive, children need nurturing, responsive relationships and a supportive learning environment, both within and outside the home.

Program Description

Palmetto Basics:

Greenville First Steps understand how hard being a parent can be. There is a lot of pressure to know exactly what you are supposed to do to help your child be successful. Greenville First Steps, together with over 50 community partners, began to explore a way to create a unified message around what parents can do to help their children be better prepared for school. After months of research, community-wide meetings, and collaborative work, Greenville First Steps helped launch the Palmetto Basics.

The Palmetto Basics are five fun, simple, and powerful ways to help all our children become the happiest and most successful they can be. The Palmetto Basics include

1. Maximize Love, Manage Stress
2. Talk, Sing, and Point
3. Count, Group, and Compare
4. Explore Through Movement and Play
5. Read and Discuss Stories

These five basics simplify all of the existing messaging families hear regularly. By taking a collaborative approach, encouraging local businesses, nonprofits, churches, childcare centers and schools to use the Palmetto Basics as they talk to families with young children, the message is quickly and easily spread to families by those they trust.

Modeled after the Boston Basics, the Palmetto Basics are part of a multi-city network spreading the message about the Basics. For more information, visit www.PalmettoBasics.org

The library has been doing a lot for years and years with early literacy. When the Palmetto Basics came out, we realized these are all the things we believe in and that we've been doing for so many years. The Basics allow us to connect throughout the community and have the same message for parents as other organizations. – Ashley Snelgrove, Greenville County Library System

Family Literacy - BABYSTEPS

Parents are their child’s first and best teachers.

Program Description

BABYSTEPS is a 7-week summer enrichment program funded by Greenville First Steps and operated by Little Steps. The program provided educational, social, and community resources to 12 teens that were either pregnant or new mothers. Program participants rotated through classes focusing on educational tutoring, labor and delivery, infant care, nutrition, peer group counseling, and parenting. In addition, teens were provided with the opportunity to go on field trips in Greenville County.

This year, BABYSTEPS provided an opportunity for participants to earn a class credit through Greenville County School District’s Distance Learning option. Through partnerships with the Greenville Health System, Greenville County School District, Greenville Technical College, Small Impressions Child Development Center, the summer BABYSTEPS participants added valuable information to their “toolbox” to be better parents, stay in school, graduate, and raise a happy, healthy, and ready to learn child.

Teens earned Baby Bucks during classes and were able to “shop” in the Little Steps baby boutique to receive essential items such as diapers, baby and maternity clothes, strollers, high chairs, and toys. Throughout the summer and during the following school year, all BABYSTEPS participants who had a child were given a full scholarship to a pre-approved high quality childcare center

Babysteps participants take a tour of Unique Kidz at Davis Academy and learn what to look for and questions to ask when seeking quality childcare.

Palmetto Shared Services Alliance (Child Care Training)

Those who care for young children need high-quality, accessible, and affordable professional development.

Program Description

Greenville First Steps contracts with Palmetto Shared Services Alliance (PSSA) to provide childcare training opportunities in Greenville County. PSSA is a system of online and onsite supports designed to save time, money, and improve over-all quality of childcare and afterschool programs. The Palmetto Shared Services Alliance was developed by Greenville First Steps, with support from SC Department of Social Services and Institute for Child Success.

The Palmetto Shared Services Network has three specific impacts:

1. Help providers save money: Childcare providers, through shared buying power and access to industry relevant prepared resources can cut expenses
2. Help providers save time: Childcare providers, like any other small business owners, are typically not professionally trained accountants, HR specialists, Legal experts, or tax specialists. Access to subject matter experts and free downloadable resources will allow providers to focus on their area of expertise – Childcare quality improvement
3. Improve Access to High Quality Childcare: Shared services providers are asked to sign an MOA that commits they will reinvest all saved time and resources into quality improvement measures in their center (e.g., more training, more staff supervision, more age appropriate resources)

Child Care Scholarships

Too many families in Greenville County cannot afford quality care for their children.

Program Description

Access to quality child care is essential for children while away from their primary caregivers. Yet, of those families income-eligible for child care assistance in South Carolina, only a small fraction receive it due to lack of funds. In the absence of nurturing and consistently available family, friends or neighbors, parents are faced with few - or no - affordable care options.

Greenville First Steps serves families in greatest need. Among our scholarship families:

- 73% ... live in poverty
- 34% ... didn't graduate from high school
- 14% ... were teen parents
- 24% ... had developmental delays

In addition to regular monitoring of child care providers that receive First Steps scholarships, First Steps conducts at least one developmental screening each year with scholarship children and connects families to needed services within the community.

At Greenville First Steps, childcare scholarships are awarded to teen parents, parents enrolled in Nurse Family Partnership, and parents enrolled in a pre-approved work force development program.

The United Way of Greenville and the Greenville Health Authority both match funds from Greenville First Steps to further our ability to serve these families.

As a single mother, completing a degree with a low to moderate income, Greenville First Steps has made it possible for Gabriella to attend the 4K program.
